

I have a very big concern for watering down the law against phone solicitors. I don't want to have to miss an emergency phone call because some solisitors keep calling.